Davis Crater, President of the Student Body, looks with pride at the marker, which was a gift of the Class of '60.

FOREWORD

On September 4, 1951, following the decision of the Mecklenburg School Board to consolidate the individual high schools of Cornelius, Davidson, Derita, Huntersville, and Long Creek, North Mecklenburg Senior High School first opened its doors to students. Since that initial year, North has expanded in both plant and body. A classroom wing and a gym have been built and a new wing has been planned for opening in '64. The present student body of 869 is the largest in the school's history.

Along with the growth of the plant and the student body of the school, there has developed a spirit that is indicative of the personality of North. North Mecklenburg is characterized by a spirit of loyalty to the school and a pride in the school and its record. To instill in each student a spirit of honor, the desire for knowledge, and willingness to serve in whatever capacity one can are principles to which this institution is dedicated.

Because honor, knowledge, and service are symbols of the character of North, we proudly present to the student body the seal upon which the theme of the annual is based.

KNOWLEDGE . . .

Because of their merit in scholarship, leadership, and service to the school, outstanding upperclassmen were tapped into the National Honor Society. New members were given lighted candles as a torch of knowledge, symbolizing their past accomplishments and their future aspirations.

Many students satisfy intellectual curiosity by experimenting to gain a practical knowledge of man and the things that surround him.

Nothing more than reading can bring the world to one's door—the world and all its peoples.

HONOR ...

To realize that that one's school work is the individual responsibility of each student, and to fulfill this responsibility gives the student a feeling of self-satisfaction and gains for him the respect of others.

Doing a job well, no matter what the job may be, brings honor to the student who does his best in whatever role he is cast.

Enthusiastic and vigorous spirit in the support of one's school and all its activities affects all students, for enthusiasm is contagious.

As a service to the school, commercial students prepare the absentee list each day. They collect lists from homercoms, alphabetize them according to class, run them off on the Rexagraph and deliver them to faculty and administration.

SERVICE . . .

As an aid to students bound for college, North annually sponsors a College Day. Then students learn of the various opportunities offered by each college and of the requirements for entrance.

Students at North are proud of their program in cooperation with the American Field Service. They feel that they are serving a worthy cause when they bring an exchange student to the school. Their feeling is that they profit more than the foreign student in their midst, and this experience serves well for both.

After much thought and preparation, we, the 1963 Viking Staff, present to the student body a seal, which we hope will become a symbol of North Mecklenburg High School. The seal was designed by the Viking Staff and approved by Mr. Hough, our principal.

Since the activity of the student is centered around the school, we chose the plant itself as the center from which the student absorbs those characteristics which mold and develop his mature being.

Feeling that it should be truly representative of the ideals for which North Mecklenburg stands, we tried to choose those words which we felt would be indicative of the school—KNOWLEDGE, HONOR, SERVICE—these words symbolize the character of the North Mecklenburg Student. To instill in each student a thirst for knowledge, a desire to do honorably the best he can in whatever he undertakes, and a willingness to serve wherever he can—to produce an intelligent citizen capable of making worthy contributions to society because he is developing his whole being . . . these are the principles to which North Mecklenburg is dedicated.

ADMINISTRATION AND CURRICULUM

In our twelfth year, as always, the faculty and administrators of North Mecklenburg High School have led the students in new fields of study with dynamic new concepts in teaching. Our television classes are continuing to be taught and French lab classes are being initiated this year. Grammar and literature classes are being rotated among various teachers, and even a new method of mathematics is being taught.

Students who are advanced academically are given the opportunity to do more advanced work so that they can move as rapidly as they are capable. Nevertheless, students who find themselves unable to move at such a rapid pace are given just as much consideration.

Work has been stepped up over the past few years; and in keeping with the Governor's policy of "Quality Education," North is striving to keep abreast of the times.

Mrs. Barfield discussed a novel, The Bridge of San Luis Rey, with combined English classes.

New Concepts

Mr. Hough and Dr. Craig Phillips, Superintendent of Charlotte-Mecklenburg School System, discussed problems of consolidation.

Mr. Haynes assumed his accustomed stance behind the television to prepare the class for the day's T.V. lesson.

In Teaching

Miss Merrell, who is a first year teacher, proved a theorem in basic algebra.

Miss Shaw impatiently waited as Mrs. Holtzclaw, Mrs. Troutman, and Mrs. Klutz served themselves at a Christmas tea given for the teachers.

A New Administration Moves Forward

Now Superintendent of Charlotte - Mecklenburg County Schools, Dr. Craig Phillips was born on November 1, 1922. He attended high school in Greensboro and Chapel Hill. He graduated from U.N.C. in 1943 with a B.A. in Math and History. He also received his M.A. from U.N.C., and later earned his Doctorate in Education there.

Dr. Phillips taught at Gray High School in Winston-Salem and coached basketball. He was assistant principal, teacher of seventh grade, and director of activities at Ardemore Elementary School. Later he became the first principal of the John W. More High School and then assistant Superintendent of Winston-Salem Schools. In 1956 he became Superintendent of Winston-Salem schools.

Winston-Salem honored Dr. Phillips in 1957 by naming him "Young Man of the Year."

An active member of the Methodist Church, Dr. Phillips resides at 2801 Inverness Road in Charlotte.

Before the opening of the 1962-1963 school year, all Charlotte-Mecklenburg County teachers heard Dr. Craig Phillips, who talked to the group about goals for the school year. Seated on the stage with Dr. Phillips were board members, administrative personnel and guests. Those teachers who were teaching in the county for the first time sat on the stage also.

Graduate of Wake Forest College Mr. Hough is the second principal of North Mecklenburg High School. His B.S. degree is in science and social studies. He later attended UNC, where he completed his graduate work in administrative education.

Mr. Hough was born in Norwood, N. C. Here he attended high school and college, then moved to Dunn, where he taught science. He was first principal at New Hope High School; later he was principal at Bladenboro and Berryhill.

Mr. Hough is a "sports-lover," but bird hunting is his favorite past-time. Summer finds him working here at North, or working on a farm in Hubert, N. C.

Administration Guides School Activities

Mrs. Louella Hefner, school secretary, reconciled her bank statements with her books for December, Mrs. Hefner's duties were many and varied.

MR. BRYCE HURD . . . Lees McRae, Elon, A.B.; A.S.T.C., M.A. . . . Assistant Principal . . . Athletic Director .

Mrs. Annie Mae Styers, secretary to the television teachers, was kept very busy. She did general office work, typed tests, ran them off, and checked objective tests for these teachers.

Counselors Offer Varied Services

MRS. CHRISTINE G. HOLBROOK . . . W.C.U.N.C., A.B. . . . Guidance Counselor.

MR. TARON S. JONES . . . N.C. State, B.S.; A.S.T.C., M.A. . . . Guidance Counselor . . . Adviser to Student Council . . .

Many students at North seek the guidance of the school counselors, but not always about their personal problems. Mr. Jones and Mrs. Holbrook not only interview each student at some time during the year, but seek to help each student when he needs their assistance.

The Counselors give scholarship information to qualified students, administer tests to individuals and to classes, interpret test scores, and fill out school records on college applications. Their work is always in the interest of the student and is a vital part of North's program.

"You mean this is my seore?" said Mike Whisenant, as Mr. Jones (right) handed Janet Cherry her College Board score.

Mrs. Sims pointed out to Diana Clark some of the ways by which her outline could be improved.

Juniors in Mrs. Kluttz's English class studied "The Scarlet Letter." They found that note taking was helpful for review at test time.

English Offers Enrichment

English teachers of North Mecklenburg strive to teach each student to think clearly, to read intelligently, to communicate effectively in speech and writing, and to listen critically. They try to instill in each student a desire to read good literature for enjoyment and also for insight into moral and spiritual values.

Three units of English are required for graduation, one unit being earned each year that a course is successfully completed. World literature is an elective in the field of English. Students who find a need for remedial or speed reading are given a chance to improve their reading. Spelling and word study is an elective, also. Book reports are a requisite for a unit in English.

"Out, out, damned spot." The sleepwalking scene from Macbeth came alive for a senior English class when Virginia Cornue dramatized the part of Lady Macbeth.

Languages Broaden Horizons

Today it has become almost a necessity to have knowledge of a foreign language, and better still to be able to speak and understand not only one but several languages. North offers two languages—French and Latin. In such courses students learn grammar and the history, culture, and literature of these people.

In French emphasis is placed on speaking, listening, and understanding. Through the NDEA program materials and equipment have been purchased to facilitate learning French correctly.

Mrs. Troutman used the bulletin board to explain French lessons.

Linda Nelson and Vernessa Woodrow followed a lesson in the book as they listened to it on tape.

More than ever before, mathematics is a very important field of learning, and many colleges are requiring more courses for entrance. To meet the demand and keep abreast of the latest changes, North has added to and improved its curriculum in that field. S.M.S.G. Geometry and Algebra, Integrated Algebra and Trigonometry, Intermediate Mathematics, and Elementary Functions and Matrix Algebra are among the newer courses offered. Besides teaching basic fundamentals, math attempts to train in basic reasoning and practical applications of problems worked on in class.

Traditional courses are still being offered, however. Many students who do not prepare for college take business math as the one required course for graduation.

Advanced Math Courses Offered

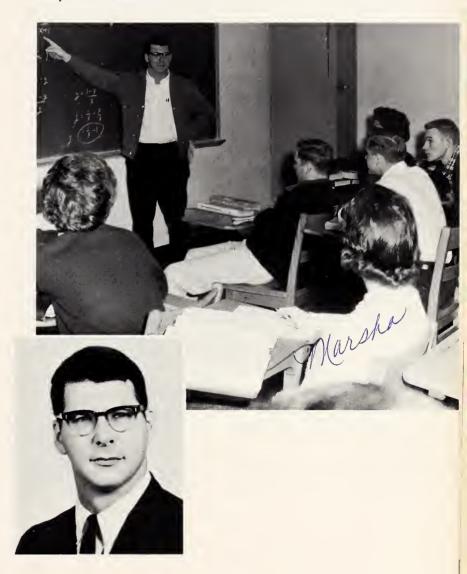

MR. MARTIN PETERSON . . . Atlantic Christian, B. S. . . . Algebra I, II, Intermediate Mathematics, Geometry . . . Adviser to Math Club . . .

Mr. Peterson explained an algebra problem to his second period class, who were taking Intermediate Algebra, taught at North this year for the first time.

To learn more about oneself and about one's surroundings is the purpose of all sophomores taking biology.

But many students find themselves wanting to know much more about scientific subjects and to explore the whole realm as far as possible. Thus advanced courses are offered for those who want to delve into principles and to experiment. North offers biology, chemistry, and physics, as well as chemistry lab classes.

A part of every sophomore's school life includes hours spent at the microscope examining plants and animals of a relatively unknown world. Sophomore Carol Woodall explored this world.

Sponsored annually by the Science Club, the Science Fair provides an opportunity for interested students to demonstrate their ingenuity and knowledge. It gives them a chance to do further study in a field of science that particularly interests them. Students report on and exhibit the projects in a display which is open to everyone at North. The Science Fair is kept open through one P.T.A. meeting so that parents may have a chance to see the projects.

North's projects are judged at the school, and the winners compete in the district. District winners go to the state; all contestants have a chance to win prizes of value.

The Science Fair is an excellent means for students to gain a broader, more lasting knowledge of science; it also may help steer some student in the direction of a science career.

Projects Encourage Science Careers

Preparing an interesting and informative project took much time and hard work. Sandra Harrill and Vernessa Woodrow chose "Hydra" as the topic for their investigation. Their project was entered in the biology division of the science fair.

As the deadline for Science Fair Projects drew near, students began setting up their projects to make sure they worked. Here Nelson Perry and Johnny Blackman experimented to find the heat of solution of sulfuric acid.

Miss Rigney's U.S. History class listened as she dictated history notes.

Mr. Ratteree's class found debating an interesting way of learning. Mary Kay Davis (standing) led the discussion.

T.V. classes were new experiences for some. Students soon learned not to get behind in note-taking.

Social Studies Aid Future Decisions

As ways of living and thinking are developed, this civilization improves. This year North offered a wide variety of courses in the Social Studies curriculum, including Bible, Family Living, American History, World History, and Sociology—Economics. To be informed of local and world affairs, one must have a specific amount of understanding of one's history and that of other people.

History is studied not only to learn of the past but to better one's life by avoiding the mistakes made by others. But most of all, North hopes to instill in its students an appreciation and interest in past happenings and ways of life.

Band and chorus are the two courses offered in the field of music. Chorus members participated in special musical programs for the school and for the P.T.A. They also performed for organizations outside of the school. The band played at pep rallies and football games and added to the spirit of the students and other spectators.

During their school years, many students take chorus and band in order to gain a greater appreciation of music of various types. It broadens the students' appreciation of all the creative arts. Many students find such an interest in music that they choose as their career some form of this art.

Art Develops Appreciation and Provides Pleasure

Art courses at North give the students an opportunity to express themselves and to enjoy the work of fellow students. Students paint, make sketches, and try their hand at sculpturing and making jewelry. In the Industrial Arts class, students enjoy designing and drafting.

Training in the art field can lead to outstanding vocations in commercial art, advertising, and numerous other areas. Even if the students do not enter into one of these areas, training in art helps them develop an appreciation of good art.

Home Economics, Agriculture Develop Hobbies, Vocations

Hands carefully guide the board as it is being sawed in half.

Home Economics and Agriculture are two of the vocational subjects offered to the students at North. In Home Economics girls learn to plan and prepare well-balanced and appetizing meals and to sew. Agriculture offers boys a chance to learn about farming and other agricultural careers. Many hobbies develop from these courses. These boys also become familiar with tools used for sawing, sanding and planing.

Home Economics and Agriculture classes teach practical skills and offer chances to apply knowledge gained.

 $\mbox{Mrs.}$ Ross and a group of her Home Economics girls made mints for the coming holiday season.

"Supply and Demand" was the subject of the bulletin board which Harvey Sloop and Glenn Johnston used to make a point in D.E.

Students who plan to work after graduation rather than go to college receive the most help from the Commercial Department, although many commercial students attend college. In this department students prepare themselves for jobs by taking Typing I, II; Shorthand I, II; Bookkeeping, Office Practice, and Secretarial Practice.

Distributive Education classes prepare themselves for better jobs by gaining experience in many ways—by working, by studying salesmanship, and by studying production and distribution, among other things. Students learn how to dress and how to conduct themselves in an interview, also. Moreover a knowledge of free enterprise is gained by the D.E. students.

To test the proficiency of the student, many speed tests are given students in typing.

For the first time physical fitness tests were given all sophomores. Ronnie Sellers had to climb the rope, touch a piece of metal placed at the top, and come down again, while Ronnie Burleson and Gene Benfield held the rope.

To earn his license a driver education student must pass the road test successfully. Here a sophomore boy tried his skill at parallel parking while another awaited his turn, under the watchful eye of Mr. Presson.

Physical Fitness and Safety Stressed

A diversified program to promote good sportsmanship and fair play as well as to increase the student's athletic ability is planned for both boys and girls. Boys spend the majority of the year playing football, basketball, and softball. At the same time girls enjoyed basketball, softball, badminton, volleyball and soccer. Folk dancing, wrestling, tumbling, and calisthenics were also a part of the activities.

Driver education is offered those students taking physical education. The study course is taught the first six weeks of school. After that students take P.E. until their turn to take on-the-road training. A student must successfully pass both study course and driving tests before given his license.

The cafeteria staff was composed of Dessie Barkley, Elsie Deaton, Ruth Snodgrass, Annie Rivers, Edith Rivers, Betty Smith, and Peggy Robbins.

Cafeteria Prepares Well-Balanced Meals

Frances Beard, manager of the cafeteria was responsible for the many records that had to be kept.

Preparing well-balanced, appetizing meals five days a week for over 800 students and faculty members was a tremendous task for the seven cafeteria workers and their manager. From early morning until their day's work was finished, they tried to prepare food the students would enjoy, and which would provide the nourishment they needed.

Meal service was given with a smile.

Mr. Hugh Deaton, custodian, was responsible for supervising the work of the janitors and keeping the grounds clean.

Since North's plant is composed of several buildings and the campus is quite spread out, the custodian and the janitorial staff are kept busy keeping things in order. Mr. Hugh Deaton, the custodian, supervised the work of the staff, saw that the buildings were opened in the morning and closed in the afternoon. Another of his responsibilities was to see that the buildings were kept warm in winter, a job that sometimes required his coming over in the wee hours of the morning to start up the furnace. Moreover, Mr. Deaton was on duty when school activities were held at night. Numerous other jobs were his, also.

Keeping things clean and polished is the work of the janitors and the maid. After each exchange of classes the halls were dry mopped to keep down as much dust as possible, and this was done again after school. Facilities were scrubbed, floors mopped and waxed about twice during the year, grass mowed, and many other things done to keep things spic and span.

Custodians and Janitorial Staff Keep North Clean

Sudie Cornelius, the maid, posed with her new "easy-rolling" cart.

ORGANIZATIONS

"Now, Mrs. B., you know that picture won't fit there." said Corinne Dotger to adviser, Mrs. Ruth Barfield. But that was before she learned to trim and scale pictures.

Working on the Administration section required great care to see that all statistics were correct. Planning this division were Ann Knox and Allen Shepard.

A different theme each year requires much thought. Planning the theme of the 1963 Viking were Elaine Rhodes, Jane Price, and Susan Logan.

Looking at some interesting copy were (seated) Barbara Kidd, Janet Cherry, and (standing) Dianne Knox who were responsible for the Organizations section. Cayle Moore and Jane Pettus (also standing) worked on Features.

Making sure that no one was left out, Elaine Williams, Pam Bullard, and Randy Wally had a tedious task working on Classes.

VIKING Designs And Uses Seal As Theme

Planning, for the 1963 Staff, began in the summer with a short session with Mr. Ron Norman and Mr. Earl McDermott of the printers. They talked to the members about features that make a good yearbook and interesting ways to present material. It seemed easy, sitting in the shade of the oak tree, listening; however, carrying out those things called for much thought.

Nevertheless work began and things began to have some form. Advertisements and subscriptions were sold, and a budget set. The Staff decided on a college-size book again, and plans were put on paper.

What about a theme? It just didn't seem possible to decide on one. Then one day some of the Staff and the adviser began doodling, and from those doodles emerged a seal, which became the theme of the 1963 yearbook.

Inspired, the Staff went to work on pictures, class lists, copy, and a dozen other necessary things. Just when everything seemed to be going fine, someone would misplace a picture or a class list. Then everyone had to stop work and search frantically until the lost was found. Copy was written, discarded, and re-written. Headlines were puzzled over, written and re-written. There were times when it seemed there just wouldn't be an annual. But the Staff would never give up.

Such was the work of the Viking Staff. One would think there was no enjoyment to be had in such a disorganized organization, but it was fun.

Bobby Lippard, of Photography, worked with Mike Whisenant and Janice Griffin, of the Sports section. Photographer Mike Norris (standing) looked to see what pictures needed to be made.

Checking pictures so that they could be delivered to the students were Business Manager Ginger Puckett, and Co-Editors Judy Stancil and Corinne Dotger.

Proofing and typing required much work and concentration as shown here by Bobby Beaver, Sports Editor, and Reeva Taylor, Typist.

Assembly programs and pep rallies were presided over by Davis Crater, President of the Student Body.

Mr. Jones (right) advised the officers of the Student Council, who were Jimmy Poole, Treasurer; Zoe Hough, Secretary; Ronnie Norman, Vice-President; and Davis Crater, President.

Student Council

Student Council members were homeroom presidents, class presidents, Committee Chairmen, and elected officers of the student body. They were FIRST ROW: Judy Byrd, Kristi Scott, Linda Nelson, Vera de Moraes, Terrye Edwards, Pat Moore, Marsha Henry. SECOND ROW: Ann Thompson, Jane Bates, Glenda Roach, Cheryl Nalley, Kay Ashley, Elaine Small, Allen Shepard, Gary Ashford. THIRD ROW: Ricky Williams, Bobby Armstrong, Mimy Martin, Phyllis Wagner, Brenda Roberts, Zoe Hough, Eddie

Committees Plan Devotions And Chapel Programs

Various committees worked diligently to develop the aims of the Student Council. Their purpose was to incite a more amiable relationship between students and faculty. Another goal set by the Student Council was that of gaining a better relationship between North and neighboring schools.

Members of the Devotions Committee combined their ideas to come up with some original and interesting devotions which were presented each morning at the beginning of the first period.

Another committee, the Chapel Committee, met to devise assembly programs that would be entertaining and interesting as well as educational. Many chapel programs with all these characteristics were presented to the student body. A Methodist minister, Reverend Montford from Davidson, addressed the student body on "Believing Something Doesn't Always Make It True."

Dr. Craig Phillips, Superintendent of Charlotte-Mecklenburg County Schools, talked to the students about developing educational and physical qualities. Representatives of the sponsors of Junior Achievement discussed and demonstrated the advantages of this organization. North's students gained knowledge and enjoyment from these and other well-planned programs.

Dr. Workman, a favorite of North's students, spoke on "Who Should Attend College" in assembly to initiate College Week.

Planning the interesting devotions given each morning was the Devotions Committee. Members were Rebecca Robinson; Gwen Whitley, chairman; and Barbara Blythe.

The responsibility of lining up chapel programs was given to these: Jane Båtes, chairman; Will Brown; Reita Pendry; and Roy Cox.

While enjoying refreshments on College Day, the college representatives and their guides were able to get better acquainted. Pictured here are Mr. Allen from High Point College, Jean Long, Mr. Creech from Wake Forest, Gwen Whitley, Vicki Baker, and Mr. Hardesty from Brevard College.

Hospitality Committee Encourages Friendliness

Vera de Moraes pointed out an interesting idea at the Hospitality Committee's planning session for College Day. Other members included Rebecca Robinson, Zoe Hough, Jimmy Poole, Currie Johnston, and Phyllis Wagner.

To create a friendlier, more enthusiastic atmosphere at North was the goal of the Hospitality Committee, which was responsible for the activities of College Day. These activities included contacting the colleges, greeting and guiding the college representatives, and serving the guests coffee and doughnuts after the sessions were over.

The committee was also required to greet and welcome new students. When a new student entered North's doors, members welcomed him and announced his arrival in the North Star. When a Rebel became seriously ill, an announcement was made in the school newspaper by the Hospitality Committee.

The Coast Guard Representative and his guide, Dixie Cochrane, joined in conversation during the social hour following the College Day Proceedings.

North students and graduates enjoyed dancing to the music of the combo at the annual Homecoming Dance.

Social Committee Sponsors Homecoming Dance

To begin their year's work, the Social Committee planned the first event of the year, which was the Sophomore Sock Hop. There the new Rebs had a chance to become better acquainted with class members and some of North's upperclassmen.

In preparation for the Homecoming Dance, a semiformal affair, the committee chose as their theme, "The Old South" and created novel decorations in pastel colors to carry out the theme.

Graduates, upperclassmen, and sophomores enjoyed dancing to the music of Boyce Roberts' Combo. They also enjoyed the punch and cookies which were served. Mrs. Ross, Miss Shaw, Mrs. Kluttz, and Mr. Hough enjoyed the activities along with the students and graduates.

In order to promote better school relations, the Social Committee strove to create more interesting activities.

Work done by the Social Committee was appreciated by students who attended the Homecoming Dance.

Exchange Program Promotes Understanding

These four A.F.S. applicants discussed their chances for being chosen to go abroad as exchange students. They were Susan Logan, Ronnie Norman, Elaine Rhodes, and Wayne Cline.

Vera took part in all school activities. Here, she and Mrs. Hart wait in the receiving line at the Sophomore Reception to meet the Sophomores and their parents. Mr. Presson and Mr. Pigg enjoyed conversing with each other.

Sponsoring the exchange student and raising money for the A.F.S. program at North was the committee composed of FIRST ROW: Susan Logan, Zoe Hough, Bobby Beaver. SECOND ROW: Mimy Martin, Vera de Moraes. THIRD ROW: Tommy Benfield, Jane Bates; and Phyllis Wagner, chairman.

The American Field Service Committee of the Student Council has as its goal the increasing of understanding between the peoples of the world, and more specifically, increasing understanding between the peoples of the world and North Mecklenburg. The local A.F.S. Committee carries out this purpose by seeing that North's foreign exchange student becomes a part of the school and community.

Under the "Big Brother-Big Sister" program a North High student is the "big brother" or "big sister" of the foreign exchange student for a designated period, during which time he shares with the exchange student his activities.

In order to make the exchange of cultures complete, the A.F.S. also has a program which gives American teen-agers the opportunity to live with families in a foreign land.

The American Field Service Committee of the Student Council operates on the belief that it is vitally important in this uneasy world to learn about other people.

Several committees are chosen from the student body to be responsible for publicizing North's activities. The goal of these committees is to let everyone know about the school and what the school is trying to do.

HOUSE and GROUNDS COMMITTEE is responsible for making announcements about coming events, award winners, changes in schedule, and other similar things. The SCRAPBOOK COMMITTEE keeps the history of the school by cutting clippings which pertain to North out of the newspaper. These are used for future references. Perhaps the most important work it does is to compile the handbook, which is given to every Sophomore and any other new student who becomes a member of the Rebel student body. The handbook guides the new students during their first year at North. The PUBLICITY COMMITTEE makes known publicly the past and coming events of North.

Each committee must function properly if the Student Council performs its duties as it should. It takes hard work and cooperation, but the reward is a well-organized and purposeful Student Council.

Making up the Scrapbook Committee were Judy Stancil, Anita Dresser, and Corinne Dotger who worked hard to keep a record of the school's activities.

Committees Publicize School Activities

House and Grounds Committee members, Buddy Skinner, Roger Cathey, and William Smith, operated the public address system for devotions and announcements.

Bobby Barnhardt and Mimy Martin, Co-chairmen of the Publicity Committee, sent the school news to the newspapers.

Selection from the applicants for membership in the Booster Club was a problem. Far too many students wanted to belong to this club. As a result, a new Constitution was written, which provided for one hundred twenty regular members who worked after school; fifteen members who could not work after school, but who did their share at home; a Planning Committee of eight people and two chairmen, one for football season and one for basketball season.

The club spent the year decorating the stadium for home games and organizing Homecoming activities. At the end of football, basketball, and baseball seasons, the club sponsored a day of celebration for each team. They bought the players' lunches and served a huge victory cake. In all their work, this, the largest of North's clubs, faithfully supported the ball teams.

Pat Moore, representing the Booster Club, cut cake for the players.

One of the football team's rewards for a winning season was the privilege of going to the head of the lunch line. Bobby Barnhardt, Mr. Ratteree, Lee Daughtery, Junior Dover, and Mr. Haynes enjoyed eating together.

Composing the Booster Committee were Pat Moore, Kathy Kanipe, Rick Burts, Mike Rodman, Bobby Beaver, Jerry Neal, Diane Alley, Elaine Hinson, and Allen Shepard. This committee was responsible for planning the year's activities.

"Settle The West" Theme For Homecoming

Martha Wood and Betty Jo Grove looked over the project that won second prize among the Homecoming Projects. Note the Indian "biting the dust"; and that's just what they did when they played North at Homecoming.

Mrs. Holtzclaw's homeroom's project ranked first among the Homecoming projects. Dennis Latour added the finishing touch to the lettering.

With boosting school spirit as its main purpose, the members of the Booster Club endeavored to make 1963 the most active and spirited year ever. On game days pom-poms, Rebel tags, and confetti were sold from "Ye Olde Spirit Shoppe."

"Settle the West" was chosen as the Homecoming theme. Homerooms made projects, carrying out this theme, and displayed these in the foyer.

Spirit was running high!—How could the Rebs lose!

Members of the Booster Club sold pom-poms, tags, Rebel buttons, and badges in "Ye Olde Spirit Shoppe."

New Features Added To North Star

Under the watchful eye of their new advisor, Mrs. Ruth Wall, the North Star staff worked to make this year's paper better than ever. A new section was added to the paper in which compositions written by North students were published. Regular editorials and a luncheon menu were also added.

Staff members were kept busy as the North Star is a mimeographed paper. Cutting stencils, running them off, and stapling them was a mansized job as each issue had to be distributed before the last bell rang. Students anxiously awaited the giving out of the papers on Friday afternoon during the sixth period.

Don Dudley, News Editor; Fred Kerr, Feature Editor; Susan Allison and Junior Fincher, Sports Editors; listened attentively to instructions.

Wanda Kidd and Nancy Rogers looked over the final copy, while \mathbf{D} awn Hamilton and Jackie Comfort typed stencils.

Steve Johnson, Darrell Hinson, Joe Hamilton, and Larry Dunn looked over newly printed copies of the North Star.

Mrs. Wall pointed out a careless mistake in the North Star to Editor-in-Chief, Barry Gant; and Associate Editor, Cherry Wagstaff.

Initiation of new members into the Honor Society provided many laughs. Anita Dresser performed a duck walk for the senior members Honor Society tapping was a serious and very impressive occasion. Ronnie Norman held a lighted candle as did each new member. Zoe Hough robed Mildred Hope as Jimmy Poole prepared to tap another new member.

Honor Society Taps New Members

A solemn and exciting tapping ceremony, the hilarious initiation of new members, the arrival of pins—these were all important times for members of the National Honor Society. New members and old joined for meetings based on the theme for the year—citizenship, one of the prerequisites for membership in the Honor Society. One meeting, at which Professor Puckett from Davidson spoke, was devoted to a discussion of Mecklenburg history. Members went as a group to Davidson College to see the college's production of Galileo.

A tour of the F.B.I. building, several speakers, and a fund-raising project for a scholarship were plans to be carried out.

A study of the "Basic Christian Truths" provided a fruitful year for the Bible Club. Meetings were held once each month, plus a few special meetings to plan projects. Members worked to promote Christian fellowship, study, and service. At Christmas, a program was held at the Mecklenburg Sanitorium; also, many gifts were distributed. The year was climaxed with an annual picnic.

Barbara Blythe, president, explained project plans to Brenda Buckley and Ann Knox.

"Basic Christian Truths" Studied in Bible Club

Bible Club members discussed Bible passages at one of their monthly meetings. Members of the club present were Marsha Somers, Barbara Blythe, Miss Johnston, adviser; Judy Garrison, Jane Long, and Nancy Mundy.

A.V. Members Provide Needed Service

A need for a better organized audio visual department was the basis of the A.V. Club. Members of this club volunteered to work during the period that they had study hall.

The services they performed included operating projectors and delivering and setting up equipment. Members of this new club performed much needed services for the busy faculty.

Lanny Bustle, Mike Rodman, Don Puckett, Billy Penninger, Joe Rogers, Howard McCoy were members of the newly formed A.V. Club.

Dramatics Club Active

Listening while Miss Rigney, Dramatics Club adviser, explained how to read their lines in a play were Margaret Wood and Sandy Wheaton.

For the first time in the history of North Mecklenburg, we had a full-fledged Dramatics Club sponsored by Miss Rigney. The purpose of the club is to promote a better understanding of and appreciation for the fundamentals of drama.

Throughout the year the club attended local play productions at Davidson College and Ovens Auditorium, participated in the Fall Festival, and in the early spring climaxed its efforts by participating in the Fine Arts Festival. Besides the actual production and attendance of plays, details of settings, costuming, and make-up were studied.

A properties collection including old furniture, clothes, and other needed articles was begun. Members joined their efforts to build a foundation for a bigger and better club in the future.

Future Teachers of America

Miss Hopkins, FTA adviser, explains some of the aspects of teaching to Anna Pegram and Donelle Ranson.

Discussing their future plans as teachers were these members of the Future Teachers Club: Anna Pegram, Pamela Bullard, Pat Moore, Vernessa Woodrow, Dawn Hamilton, Donelle Ranson, Susan Allison, and Clarence Winkler.

Future Teachers' programs carried out the objective of the club, that of each member searching himself to find whether or not he would make a good teacher. In order to do this, discussions were carried on in meetings, and speakers were invited to give the group ideas about teaching. They carried out service projects during the year.

Some members of the Science Club were, FIRST ROW: Sherry Cline, Kathy Wood, Judy Stancil, Kerry Stroupe, Mr. Woodrow, Adviser. SECOND ROW: Diane Pope, Barbara Blythe, Vernessa

Woodrow, Deanne Little, Anita Dresser, Mrs. Hart, Adviser. THIRD ROW: Randy Wally, David Youngblood, Johnny Deaton, Billy Hough, and Steve Knowlton.

Science Club Sponsors Science Fair

Mrs. Hart, adviser for the Science Club, looked at an interesting photograph with two Science Club members, Steve Knowlton, and Kerry Stroupe.

To stimulate an interest in all fields of science and to give students an opportunity to learn more about the phases of science that interest them most is the purpose of the Science Club.

The club met once a week. The Vice-President made arrangements for guest speakers, films, or demonstrations of scientific principles.

This year the Science Club planned field trips to various locations which were taken after school or on Saturdays. Among these field trips were the ones to the Celanese plant in Charlotte and the Air National Guard unit at Douglas Municipal Airport. To celebrate Christmas, members had a semi-formal dance.

Ernie Patterson and Bennett Setzer, members of the Science Club, discussed a gas-law problem.

Math And Red Cross Clubs Learn And Serve

Bennett Setzer and Rick Burts found the math problem amusing. Other Math Club members were: FIRST ROW: Joe Stafford, Gene Benfield. SECOND ROW: M. H. Talley, Pam Wilson, Anita Dresser, THÍRD ROW: Billy Hough, Steve Knowlton and Al Frazier.

Though North's Red Cross Club did not officially organize during the year, interested students did what they could to keep the club alive and active at North. Three students represented the school at the monthly county council meetings and brought new ideas and ways to serve back to North.

Discussing and learning about various mathematical ideas are activities of the Math Club. Members kept in mind that the purpose is to stimulate interest in mathematics. Under the direction of Mr. Peterson, the club met once a week to discuss topics not included in North's mathematics program; also, guest speakers were invited to lecture on selected topics.

FIRST ROW: Bill Steele, Frank Wike, Harvey Sloop, Tommy Allen, Eddie Jones. SECOND ROW: Wayne Carrier, Clarence Poe, Jimmy Springs, J. D. Wright, Edgar Johnson, Bonnie Laton, Peggy Neese, Frances Finger, Bobby Sneed, and Glenn Johnston. Mrs. Helton is the adviser.

D.E. CLUB Sponsors Officers' Training Program

Tommy Allen and Ernie Small completed their informative bulletin board explaining the challenges and advantages offered in D.E.

The Distributive Education Club promotes greater interest in the classroom and the club; it develops leadership and promotes a feeling of responsibility toward the social welfare of our society through business activities. Although the club meets only once a month, members sponsored the Officers Training Program and Teachers Appreciation Day, decorated the car for the Carousel princess, and helped to promote and took part in a scholarship loan dance. They also attended the District and State Conventions and participated in student of the year job interview contests. In the spring a Bosses' Banquet with the other D.E. clubs of Charlotte and Mecklenburg county was held to honor employers. Meetings consisted of business, professional, and social sessions.

Students from North and other schools listened intently as a program was presented by the Distributive Education Club concerning parliamentary procedure.

Sponsored by the D.E. Club, Mr. Gabriel taught a class in parliamentary procedure. The program was attended by students from almost all high schools in the county, as well as by North's Students.

French Week Arouses Interest In Language Study

Reita Pendry, Anna Pegram. Harriet Ashcraft. and Cherry Wagstaff, French II officers, made plans for French Week.

French Laboratory students placed their luncheon order in French. Gene Benfield took orders from Bobby Barnhardt, Virginia Cornue, Rebecca Robinson, Dixie Cochrane, Barbara Overcash, and Georgeanna Mayhew.

To supplement regular French classes through programs of enrichment in the culture and language of the French people is the purpose of the French Clubs. French II and French III classes participate in the meetings which are held once each month during regular class periods.

The biggest project of the year is French Week in the spring. The clubs sponsor a chapel program, morning devotions in French, and menus in the cafeteria written in French. A banquet is held at the end of the week where the students converse in French and sample French food. French Week develops a feeling of camaraderie among students, allows students to share their language experience with the student body, and arouses interest in language study.

Leading French II students in their skits and other activities were the following officers: Dixie Cochrane, Phyllis Wagner, Tommy Benfield, and Zoe Hough.

Sara King, Gail Sherrill, and Dottie Markley prepared refreshments for the F. H. A. social after school.

Planning the Sadie Hawkins Dance was a great responsibility but also much fun for the F.H.A. officers. Discussing plans were Jeanne Kiker, Pamela Bullard, Jill Rozzelle, Jane Bates, Jane Eakin, and Dixie Cochrane.

Rallies Attended By Interested Future Homemakers

Membership in the Future Homemakers of America Club is limited to those girls who are sincerely interested in homemaking. These girls promote and work toward a better family life for all.

Each year, one week is designated as F.H.A. Week. Members present morning devotions for the school, and flowers for the teachers. Centerpieces are placed on each table in the cafeteria.

North is represented by the F.H.A. Club each year in three different rallies. The district rally met at Wingate College and the state rally at Raleigh. The county rally was also attended.

The annual Sadie Hawkins Dance, sponsored by the F.H.A., was a success. Everyone had fun, and the club made money to help pay for a North Mecklenburg flag, presented to the school in May.

The Board of Directors of the club planned activities and guided the club in its projects. Johnny Wallace, President; Currie Johnston, Vice-President; Fred Kerr, Secretary; Bobby Beaver, Treasurer; Jimmy Poole, and Nelson Perry were members.

Key Club Members Develop Initiative

The Key Club is a service club, striving through service to develop initiative and leadership and to promote better citizenship. Through their service, the members encourage justice, practice patriotism and good will, and seek better human relations.

Members of the North Mecklenburg Key Club are selected on a point system, based on academic and ath-

The Mecklenburg Kiwanis Club sponsors the Key Club. Under the direction of Mr. Haynes, members participated in many projects, such as selling North Mecklenburg stickers.

Boys Learn Through Working Together

"To create, maintain, and extend throughout the home, school, and community, high standards of Christian character" is the purpose of the Hi-Y Club. Once a week the club meets at the Charlotte Central Young Men's Christian Association. Here North's Hi-Y basketball team competes with teams from other schools. The YMCA also sponsors an annual banquet for all Hi-Y Clubs of Mecklenburg County with a professional athlete as the guest speaker.

Winners of varsity letters in some sport at North compose the Monogram Club. Initiation was held at the end of the football season.

The main duty of the club is to organize and print the football programs which are sold at each home football game. The proceeds from these programs are used to buy letter jackets which each senior member is given. The club is also responsible for the concession stand in the gym during basketball games.

All bus drivers were carefully chosen according to their citizenship, skill in driving, and knowledge of traffic rules. Each student who applies for his bus license is first given a written test of his knowledge of traffic laws. If he passes this test, he is given a road test to prove his driving skill. The applicant is then issued his bus license, provided he has passed these tests and has a good citizenship record. When the student becomes a bus driver, he accepts the responsibility for the life of every student on his bus.

Bus Drivers Pass Rigid Tests

sha Somers, Nancy Rogers, Patricia Williams, Terry Marrow, Margaret Johnson. FOURTH ROW: Jennie Holtzclaw, Nancy Moody, Anita Mandracchia, Carol Woodall, Nancy Mundy, Treasa LaFear, Kitty Metcalf, Junie Sparks. FIFTH ROW: Jenneane Young, Ann Thompson, Martha Greene, Linda Threatt, Becky Purser, Phyllis Snodgrass, and Marie Pope.

Looking over their bowling scores, the champion G. A. A. Bowling Team, composed of Jean Long, Kitty Metcalf, Nancy Moody, Jennie Holtzclaw, and Nancy Rogers, was pleased.

G.A.A. Girls Attend Meets

Furthering health, sportsmanship, and school spirit were aims of the Girls' Athletic Association. Since North has no program for girls' competitive sports, the club was formed for those girls wanting to take an active part in athletics.

Points were awarded for participation in games and practices and for attendance at meetings. A girl became a voting member after she had earned twenty-five points and had paid her dues. The girls were awarded their G.A.A. letters after earning two hundred points. The Association met once a week except during the months of intramurals when they met and practiced twice a week. Members participated in field days and play days. They also attended the State G.A.A. meeting.

Marsha Henry, Susan Allison, Martha Greene, Nancy Moody, Anita Mandracchia, Mildred Hope, Dianne Knox, Nancy Rogers, made up the G.A.A. basketball team.

Future Farmers Compete In Contests

Future Farmers of America carry on in their club work the things they learn in class. To encourage members' interest, judging teams are formed, and these teams compete with teams in the county, district, and state. Most of the members work toward becoming a member of a team as there are seven different contest teams. These are Parliamentary Practice, Public Speaking, Dairy

Judging, Beef and Swine Judging, Tool Identification, and Land Use and Capability.

Members of the F. F. A. learn now methods of scientific farming and study the problems facing the farmer today. Operations and maintenance of various farm machinery are also studied. Mr. Gabriel and Mr. Meacham advised the club.

Studying for the cattle judging contests was serious business for Craven Oehler and Richard Raymer.

Practicing incessantly, the band prepared for ball game appearances and the annual band concert.

Fund Raising Campaign Success

For the past two years the bands of North and Alexander have combined to form the North High Band, making it possible to have a marching band. Activities for the year included performing at all the football games, attending State contests held at Hickory and Greensboro; and performing in Spring concerts. The band has been involved in fund raising campaigns to raise money for the purchase of uniforms. This was a success and new uniforms arrived in March.

Each band member must have two or more years of study before coming to North and must reach a certain degree of proficiency on his instrument. He is expected to attend all band functions throughout the year.

During Mr. Phillips' absence, Ben Fincher led the band at a pep rally.

Softly, softly directs Mr. Phillips as the band learns a new number.

The sock hop provided an enjoyable ending to the Fall Festival.

The inseparable Woods twins sang "Side by Side" in the Fall Festival Talent Show. Terrye Edwards accompanied them.

Parent-Teacher Association at North has always been a busy, productive organization working for the betterment of the school. A great deal of planning goes into each year's activities, and new and better ways to perform various tasks are sought. Much of this behind-the-scenes work is done by the Executive Board, who also chose and put into effect this year's theme — "Building Together at North High".

One of the most important activities, and the only fund-raising project of the year, was the annual Fall Festival. Here students, teachers, and parents met for fun and fellowship. A supper was served in the cafeteria, which was followed by a Talent Show put on by students. The program ended with a sock hop in the gym.

To help parents, teachers, and students become better acquainted, the P.T.A. sponsors the Sophomore Reception at the first of the year. A Senior Reception is given for seniors, their parents, and teachers before graduation.

Susan Tilley played an original composition, which won for her first place in the Fall Festival talent show.

Much of the work of the P. T. A. was done by the president, Mrs. Thomas Trythall. She was in charge of all business meetings.

P.T.A. Holds Receptions

Enjoying the Sophomore Reception, sponsored by the P. T. A., were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. Snodgrass, Mrs. Harry, Mrs. Hope, Mrs. Pigg, and Mrs. Taylor.

Second place winner in the Fall Festival Talent Show was Zoe Hough, who played and sang folk songs.

The talkative receiving line at the Sophomore Reception included Miss Merrill, Mrs. Holtzclaw, Mrs. Griffin, Mrs. Daggy, Miss Shaw, Vera de Moraes, and Mrs. Hart.

Mr. Richard Comegys, Mrs. Martha Evans, Dr. Charles Ratliff, Mr. Frank Carlucci and Dr. David Cole "socialized" at Howard Johnson's Restaurant before the Symposium.

Dr. David W. Cole, Dr. Charles E. Ratliff, Jr., Mrs. Martha Evans, Mr. Frank C. Carlucci, and Richard W. Comegys, moderator, made up the panel for the Symposium.

Symposium - The First In State

"New Directions In International Relations" was the theme of the J. Walton Wilson Symposium—first in any state high school. The Symposium was sponsored by North's P.T.A., the Derita Woman's Club, and the Huntersville Woman's Club. Speakers were Mrs. Martha Evans, Instructor of International Relations and Political Science at U.N.C; Mr. Frank C. Carlucci, officer in charge of Congolese Political Affairs, Department of State, Washington, D.C.; Dr. David C. Cole, professor of History at High Point College; and Dr. Charles E. Ratliff, Jr., Professor of Economics, Davidson College. Richard E. Comegys, from WBT, was moderator.

The Symposium was held Thursday night, October 18, 1962, as the regular P.T.A. program. After the program, written questions from the floor were submitted to the speakers. Assembly was held the next day for the benefit of all social studies students. Mr. Frank Carlucci spoke and answered questions on international relations.

Miss Eleanor Rigney was chairman of the Symposium Committee. The planning and hard work of this first symposium became the basis for future symposiums, for this will become an annual affair for North. Each year a different topic will be emphasized.

North's Symposium Program was dedicated to Dr. J. Walton Wilson, former Superintendent of Mecklenburg County Schools, because "truly he is a good and unselfish citizen, serving especially the youth of Mecklenburg County."

Miss Eleanor Rigney, chairman of the Symposium Committee introduced the speakers. Other committee members were Mrs. Oliver Ranson, Miss Billy Carnes, Mrs. John Walters, Mrs. Richard Burts, faculty members Mrs. Daggy, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Mott, Mrs. Troutman, and Mr. Iones.

FEATURES

VERA LUCIA FIUZA de MORAES

A.F.S. Student Becomes Active Participant

One of the most welcome newcomers at North this year was our exchange student from Brazil, Vera Moraes. Through the American Field Service, Vera arrived in September and lived with Jane Bates and her family. She quickly entered into school activities with enthusiasm.

Vera, now 18, was born in Rio de Janeiro; but later moved to Fortaleza, a city of 600,000 people. Other than her parents and her 21-year-old brother, Vera missed most her daily swims and two-hour siestas after lunch. Upon her return Vera will study philosophy at the University of Ceara.

Vera and Allen Shepard were only two of the many old and new Rebels who enjoyed the Homecoming dance.

Vera and her American "sister", Jane Bates, find a moment to chat on their way to class.

Zoe Hough was honored for outstanding service.

DAR Recognizes Outstanding Citizen

Because of her outstanding achievements, both in the school and the community, Zoe Hough was chosen for the DAR Citizenship Award by the faculty. Since first coming to North, Zoe has whole heartedly entered into all phases of school life. She was state runner-up in the "I Speak for Democracy" contest in her sophomore year; she was the first girl to be president of any class at North; she has held offices in many clubs and was secretary of the Student Council her senior year.

Representing North as Senior Miss Hi Miss and Junior Miss Hi Miss, respectively, were Marcia Perry and Mildred Hope.

Miss Hi Misses Entertained At Winthrop

This year for the first time, North selected not only a Senior but also a Junior Miss Hi Miss to represent the school at Winthrop College in April. Candidates were considered on the basis of their scholastic ability, citizenship, leadership, and personality. Marcia Perry was chosen Senior representative; Mildred Hope, Junior representative.

After arriving at Winthrop, the girls attended a supper in the dining room, followed by entertainment by the Winthrop Theatre and an informal reception. Saturday's schedule included a short assembly, tours of Winthrop and Rock Hill, a picnic, a movie, and another informal party. On Sunday the Miss Hi Misses attended church services in Rock Hill. Miss Hi Miss Weekend came to a close following dinner on Sunday.

Miss North Mecklenburg Billie Jean Long

It was indeed a thrill and an honor to be chosen Miss North Mecklenburg. Excitement mounted as the time drew near to meet the other Princesses at the Queen Charlotte Hotel on Thanksgiving Eve. There Billie Jean Long attended the many activities planned for the girls from the two Carolinas. Luncheons, the Carousel Ball, and the chilling ride in the parade on Thanksgiving Day were among the things that made it a memorable experience.

Billie Jean was chosen by the student body after a run-off election. About ten girls were nominated by the students, and the voting took place after the girls were introduced to the student body at assembly. She represented North at the Carolinas Carousel as Princess North Mecklenburg.

As the crown was placed on her head by the Carousel Representative, Billie Jean Long was overcome with joy and excitement.

The Carousel Representative praised Billie Jean's beauty while she blushingly waited to give her thanks to the student body for choosing her as Miss North Mecklenburg.

Anxiously awaiting the beginning of the parade, Billie Jean shivered in the high wind that later played havoc with her hair and the car's decorations.

Senior Boys Choose Sponsors

Davis Crater chosc Terrye Edwards; Johnny Grice. Kay Ashley.

Divie Cochrane sponsored Currie Johnston; Brenda Roberts, Johnny Wallace; Pat Barkley, Jimmy Poole; Jackie Comfort, Junior Fincher.

Grover Meetze selected Wanda Kidd; Pat Kerns, Donelle Ranson; Dianne Skipper sponsored Johnny Overcash.

Terrye was presented with one dozen American Beauty roses after she was crowned.

Homecoming Queen Reigns at Dance.

Senior football players and managers, senior captains of other teams and the president of the senior class each choose a girl from the student body as sponsor at the Homecoming activities. From these sponsors the Homecoming Queen was elected.

This year sponsors were escorted onto the field during half-time activities. An excited crowd grew quiet as they waited for the announcement of the winner. Quiet gave way to laughter and astonishment when a boy's name was mistakenly called as queen. All was right again, however, when "The Homecoming Queen for 1962—Miss Terrye Edwards" rang through the stands. Terrye reigned at the Homecoming game as well as at the dance on the following night.

Much preparation and hard work was rewarded by the large crowd that attended the dance.

Homecoming Dance Best Yet

The exciting climax to Homecoming Week came on Saturday night with the annual Homecoming Dance. This was the first big dance of the season. The excitement of sophomores attending their first big dance at North as full fledged Rebels coupled with the eagerness of juniors and seniors to greet old graduates made the night a huge success and one long remembered by all.

The twist was still "the" dance among the students.

Fall Festival: Fun and a Service

Each year the P.T.A. plans various projects to raise funds. Among the most enjoyed and most enthusiastically entered into is the Fall Festival. Students, teachers and parents all entered into the activities.

Days before the festival, homerooms nominated candidates for king and queen. Each vote was a penny and plenty of vigorous campaigning went on as the deadline for final voting drew near. The ones receiving the most votes were crowned the night of the festival by the runners-up.

Runner-up Earl Bowers crowned Ricky Williams, King; then Joyce Leazer was crowned by Carol Seymour.

They Led: They Served

Each year the ten juniors with the highest averages in their class are chosen as marshals for commencement, when they serve as ushers at the graduation activities. The two juniors with the highest scholastic averages lead the procession of seniors at the Baccalaureate and the Graduation Exercises.

It is indeed an honor to be selected as a marshal, for in this way the hard work and study of those students maintaining the highest averages in the junior class is recognized.

Having been chosen by the American Legion and its Auxiliary, four rising senior girls and four rising senior boys attended Girls' State and Boys' State respectively. The girls went to the W.C.U.N.C. campus, while the boys went to U.N.C. for a week.

There they made politics live, as each group, along with other students, learned how the government works. They formed political parties, held elections, organized cities and carried on vigorous campaigns. A well-planned recreational program offered relaxation and fun.

Students representing North at Girls' and Boys' State were Mary Kay Davis, Dixie Cochrane, Joe Rogers, Virginia Cornue, Johnny Wallace, Bobby Beaver, Currie Johnston, and Jane McConnell.

Currie Johnston and Mimy Martin discussed scholarships.

Club in which he lettered in tennis, cross-country, and basketball.

Mimy Martin received a Certificate of Merit awarded in recognition of her high performance in the Merit Scholarship program. This is a distinction won by fewer than 11,000 students, one half of one per cent of the secondary school seniors in the nation. Mimy ranks number one in her class.

Bringing honor and prestige to North High were two outstanding seniors. Currie Johnston was among six nominees chosen as finalists for the 1963 Morehead Scholarships at U. N. C. Among other things, he was selected on the basis of academic standing—fourth in his class; his work as a Student Council Member and as a Class President, as well as his membership in the Key Club, the National Honor Society, and the Monogram

IANE BATES

Named by the National Council of Teachers of English in its annual Achievement Awards Competition, Zoe Hough became the only Charlotte-Mecklenburg student to receive such an award this year. Zoe was one of six students in the state and one of 870 outstanding students of English in the nation to be thus recognized.

Last spring she took a test to determine her knowledge and and use of the English language and to determine her insight into literature. She also wrote an original story, "The Ball." Zoe received a Scroll of Recognition and North's English Department was given a Certificate of Merit.

Outstanding Ability Recognized

Any senior girl was eligible to take the test in competition for the Betty Crocker Homemakers Award, and many did so. Named as the winner of this award at North was Jane Bates, who will also be entered in national competition. Jane has earned many awards in 4-H work and is now Vice-President of the F. H. A. at North.

BENNETT SETZER

VICKIE WAGNER.

ZOE HOUGH

Placing first at North in the National High School Mathematics Contest was Bennett Setzer. His score was fourth highest in the state. In recognition of his achievement, Bennett was awarded a pin, and the Middle Atlantic Actuarial Club presented him with a math book for being in the top ten in the state. The school also received a set of math books.

Participating in the "I Speak for Democracy" contest were three Sophomore English classes. Each student wrote a theme of "What Freedom Means to Me." The three best speeches were presented in assembly. Vickie Wagner won first place and received a plaque from WSOC, who made a tape of her speech and entered it in state competition.

BEST CITIZEN Joe Rogers — Phyllis Wagner

MOST INTELLECTUAL Mimy Martin — Johnny Blackman

MOST ATHLETIC Junior Fincher — Jean Long

MOST DEPENDABLE Judy Stancil – Tommy Black

MOST SINCERE Johnny Grice – Corinne Dotger

BEST ALL ROUND Currie Johnston — Terrye Edwards

Superlatives are chosen by the senior class each year. Class members meet in the auditorium and nominate students for each superlative. A student may be nominated for any number of superlatives, but he must decide upon two that he wishes to run for. He may be elected to only one however. If he should win two, he has to choose the one he prefers.

Junior-Senior Highlights Year

The scene became that of a vision as couples filled the dance floor at Radio Center.

March marked the long awaited social event of the year, the Junior-Senior Prom. Committees headed by the Junior Class officers, Currie Johnston, Johnny Wallace, Billie Jean Long, and Joe Rogers, worked from early spring to make the dance a success. St. Patrick's Day theme was carried out in colorful decorations. For Seniors the event marked the end of a wonderful three years at North; the Juniors dreamed of the time when they would be the honored guests.

SPORTS

School Spirit Sparks Winning Football Team

What a season! It didn't seem possible, for just two years ago North was bogged down in a 17-game losing streak, a rut which resulted in the school pulling out of the Western 4-A Conference. But when the Rebels put their togs away this year, they had far more to show for the season than scarred helmets, torn jerseys, and worn cleats. They looked back with pride on the best campaign in nine years of competition.

This year North celebrated its first football win over a city school, rolling over Harding 20-7. In nine games North racked up 232 points and allowed such opponents as East (only team to beat the Rebels), Harding, Lincolnton, and Statesville just 69. Getting out of the conference and creating a new will to win under a new coach, a pass-happy quarterback, four splendid pass receivers, and a fired-up team sparked the reformation.

Looking over the statistics of the first three games made Head Coach Mack Haynes and Coaches Ratteree, Ross, and Glendenning smile at the prospect of a very good record for the year.

Having been chosen the Most Valuable Player, Jimmy Poole was presented a trophy by Coach Haynes. Poole sparked the pro-type offense, used for the first time this year by the Rebs, and made it operate with an impact.

Chosen for the Best Sportsmanship Award, Tommy Black led the rushing with 485 yards in 70 carries and grabbed 14 passes for two scores.

Good playing and good sportsmanship—that's a combination that is hard to beat . . . and North had plenty of both in football this year. Students will not soon forget the games and the joy and excitement that prevailed.

After tying South in a penalty-ridden game, North came back to beat Catholic with Poole throwing four touchdown passes and running for a fifth score. Black, Fincher, Hoke, and Overcash also scored. Against Belmont the Rebs rolled up 400 yards and chalked up 19 first downs, but that was just the beginning.

Harding bit the dust under the flashy, swift-striking plays of the Rebs to give North its first victory over Harding. Only eight plays after the game began, North scored when end Gary Phillips gathered in a Poole pass and sprinted into the end zone. The play had started on the Ram 49. Lightning struck just as fast for the next Rebel score. Jerry Hoke took a Harding punt on his own 35, cut laterally across the field while picking up his blocking beautifully, and jetted to the Ram one.

After a loss, Poole rifled a pass into the end zone that Phillips, though surrounded by Rams, grabbed, and it was 13-0, North. The final North score came after three Poole passes and a run by Hoke had accounted for 59 yards. Poole sneaked over from the one for the touchdown. Oh, it was a great game!

Over Harding

North end Gary Phillips gathered in a pass from quarterback Jim Poole in the end zone during the game against Harding for the Rebels' second score. North won, 20-7.

Lee Daugherty (22) relaxed for a few minutes along with other players on the bench.

Manager Shook was on the job every second of the game.

The Rebs moved for a short gain against West.

Wheeler, Gant, Hicks, Crater, Grice and Mangle played tackle.

Season's Record In Football Best Yet

East handed North its first defeat of the year with a score of 12-0. But the Rebs were not ready to give up; they came right back to win over Statesville, 24-20. Poole passed for four touchdowns. Fincher gathered in two passes for scores, while Phillips and Black accounted for the other two.

Fincher starred at Homecoming against West. He pulled in 13 of 17 passes for a total gain of 416 yards. The entire Reb rooting section went wild when Fincher gathered in a punt and returned the ball 80 yards for a touchdown. He also scored three other touchdowns, with Black charging over for the last in the first half.

North's Rebs handed Lincolnton its first loss after seven wins. The defense led by Johnny Moore, Bob Barnhardt, Bob Shanholtz, and David Jones performed at its best, as North was threatened only once when the Wolves moved to the five-yard line where a fumble ended the drive. To close a good season, North romped to a 49-0 victory over Lowell, making the record for the year 7-1-1. Victory was sweet!

Guards were, FIRST ROW: Bostic, Sasser, Dover, SECOND ROW: Pharr, Jones. and Knox.

Touchdown, North!

Barnette and Peterson were centers.

Garinger's number 35 didn't stop a Poole shot-2 points North.

Hard Driving Rebel Offense Highlights Season

North didn't play a conference schedule in football, but everyone knew the Rebs were in conference basketball competition. For the first time since the Western 4-A Conference was organized in 1959, the Rebels became a serious threat to the rest of the conference. Teamwork highlighted a spirited season as the Rebels took on the best the area had to offer and proved themselves worthy of their improved ranking in the Western Conference.

Under the guidance of Coach Pigg, North opened its basketball season with two big wins over Charlotte Catholic. With new found confidence, North made it three wins and no defeats, as the Rebels downed Ashley 53-43. By beating Asheville, rated as one of the strongest teams in the conference, 61-44, the Rebels proved themselves to be a real threat. North defeated unbeaten East 50-48 in one of the most thrilling ball games of the season. The Rebels' five straight victories over some of the best teams in the conference threw them into a tie for first place with Myers Park.

JOHNNY WALLACE

JOHNNY OVERCASH

The Rebs, however, experienced a mid-season let down, and found themselves on the losing end in the next seven games, but with pride and sureness they came back to beat a powerful East team with ease. The Rebels ended the season with a much improved record.

The sureness with which the team maneuvered on the court demonstrated vast improvement over last year. The patterns they worked also reflected the seasoning that took place during the previous year's schedule. Even though sharpshooters Currie Johnston, Jimmy Poole, Johnny Overcash, and rebounder Johnny Moore will be graduating this year, a strong team will be returning next year, and an even better record is expected.

Rebs Tie For Second Place In Conference Play

The 1962 Rebel baseball team finished the season with a 9-7-1 record. Under the crafty and able tutelage of Coach Haynes, last year's team ended the season tied for second place in regular play in the Western 4-A Conference. Highlighting the season was the pitching of Jimmy Blythe, who was one of the best in the league. Some of the outstanding hitters were Bobby Armstrong, Eugene Link, Butch Hough, and Johnny Overcash.

North played West in the first round of the Conference tournament and was defeated 2-1. They played Harding in the consolation game and defeated them 12-8. This placed North third in the Conference behind the first place team West and second place Garinger.

With the nucleus of last year's team returning, plus some seasoned sophomores, this year's team should have a rewarding year.

Paul Bolick took his turn at bat to help defeat East.

Rebel Sets School Record

Competing in track were, FIRST ROW: Mike Rodman, Mack McKeown, Clarence Winkler, Gary Ashford, Conrad Wilson, Emery Icard, Larry Kerns. SECOND ROW: Randy Taylor, Wayne Jones, Don Goforth, Doug Bostic, Vann Sasser, Tommy Blythe, Bob Barnhardt. THIRD ROW: Ronnie Norman, Don Dudley, Johnny Blackman, Wayne Cline, Jerry Byers, Silas Davis, and Coach Cochrane.

Led by Coach Cochrane and a capable group of returning lettermen, the 1962 Rebel Track Team worked hard to set new records. Although not successful in individual track meets, they participated in the Queen City Relays.

Captain Silas Davis, a senior, set a new school record in the mile run in the Queen City Relays. He was supported by Gary Ashford, Bob Barnhardt, and Jerry Byers.

North lost two of its varsity track members but the Rebs look toward a prosperous '63 season.

Bob Barnhardt was North's top pole vaulter.

Jerry Byers was a steady performer in the high hurdles.

Cross Country Team prepared for a coming meet.

Wayne Cline set a fast pace in practice.

Speed and Endurance Highlight Season

Members of Cross Country were coached by Mr. Cochrane. Boys making up the team were Kenny Stillwell, Wayne Cline, Mac McKeown, Wayne Jones, and Earl Bowers.

North's second year in cross country was one of building. The team was made up of juniors and sophomores; therefore, the coming season is one of great promise. With a year of experience behind them the team should take its place among the best in the Western 4-A Conference.

The team participated in seven meets with other schools in the county, and several of the boys turned in good performances, particularly Wayne Cline and Wayne Jones. Wayne Cline placed fourth in the State Cross Country Meet. The three boys that finished before him were seniors; therefore, Wayne is in the running for top state honors next year.

Rebel Varsity Wrestlers were proud of their records this year. FIRST ROW: In the 95-pound class, Billy Cavin had a 4-5 record; (103) Mike Stubbs, 6-7; (112) Tommy Park, 9-2-2; (120) Wayne Jones, 8-3; (127) Larry Cox, 7-5; (133) Craig Hunter, 1-5; (145) Larry Snider, 8-4; (154) Davie Jones, 4-6; SECOND ROW: (180)

Rick Hyman, 6-5-1; and (Unlimited) Bob Wheeler, 5-6-1. Other team members were Earl Bowers; Mike Brannen; David Brooks; Bobby Knox; Bill Mauch; Jerry Osborne. THIRD ROW: Terry Osborne; Phil Paige; Ernie Patterson; Mike Rodman; Allen Starnes; Al Thompson; and Pat Whisenant. Chauncey Edwards was Manager.

Rebel Grapplers Show Determination, Spirit

Interest in wrestling has changed this minor sport into a major one at North. Part of the credit goes to Coach Bryce Hurd; but a great deal goes to the team who fought through their second season with the will to win.

Since the team will lose only three varsity members, they are looking hopefully toward next season, when they should be a real threat for top honors in the Western 4-A Conference. In their first year Pat Garrison won first place position in the Unlimited Class at the regional meet and lost to Asheboro in the state finals. This year's team record was 7 won, 3 lost, and 3 tied.

Co-Captains of the Wrestling Team were Don Pope, in the 165-pound class with a 8-3-1 recorl, and Vernie Case, 138 pounds, with a 7-4-1 record.

Rebs Defeat Myers Park In Regular Play

North's tennis team turned in a good performance last season. For the first time since North opened, the Rebs won over Myers Park. They also tied Myers Park for the Western 4-A Conference Championship. They tied Goldsboro for the State Team Championship.

Jim Causey defended his 1961 Boys' Singles Championship successfully by defeating Jim Donnan of Burlington 6-3, 6-1.

Graduation claimed three members of the 1962 Championship team; however, since North has always had a good tennis team, the Rebs were expected to have a good '63 season.

Grover Meetze and Ray Baucom team together for a victory during practice.

Happy over a great season were Rick Burts, Scot Treadwell, Will Brown, Charles Lloyd, Jim Poole, Grover Meetze, Ray Baucom, Currie Johnston, and Jim Causey.

Elected to lead and represent the student body of North were FIRST ROW: Frances Justice, Billic Jean Long, Ann Poole, Lynn Neal. SECOND ROW: Terrye Edwards, Head; Cherry

Wagstaff, Co-Head. THIRD ROW: Marsha Henry, Delores Simril, Shelby Taylor, and Diane Ferrell.

Cheerleaders Encourage School Spirit . . .

After being selected by the student body, the Cheerleaders, varsity and junior varsity, must live up to the responsibility given them. Practices begin in late summer for the varsity. A few weeks after school began junior varsity girls were elected and they soon began adding their support to the "Little Rebs."

One of the most important duties of the cheerleaders was conducting pep rallies during the football and basketball seasons. They also worked with the Booster Club in making posters. The students depended on the cheerleaders to lead them at all ball games.

Though North won or lost, the Cheerleaders always set good examples of sportmanship. By working hard the girls helped to boost North's teams to winning seasons.

During the summer the Cheerleaders had a car-wash to buy new vests for the coming season.

Boosting the "Little Rebs" in their games throughout the year were the Junior Varsity Cheerleaders (Row 1) Doris Pigg, Renee Ferrell, Martha Barnhardt, (Row 2) Glenda James, Junie Sparks, and Kitty Metcalf.

And Sportsmanship

The Varsity Cheerleaders aroused enthusiasm and school spirit at pep rallies held regularly throughout the year.

Lettergirls were Mary Kay Davis, Flag Bearer; Jean Long, Pam Wilson, Martha Greene, Dianne Skipper, Donna Wiegand, and Martha Smith, Flag Bearer.

Jaunty Majorettes, Lettergirls Add Spice To Band

Giving a spark of glamour to the Rebel band at ball games were the Rebelettes and the Lettergirls. These girls began working during the summer to perfect the routines they planned to use. After school started, the girls practiced during fourth period with the band so that timing and rhythm would be precise.

The girls strutted and twirled through half-time activities at home games, and marched with the band at "away" games. At Homecoming, half-time activities included routines with fire batons which proved to be very effective.

Before school began, lettergirls had a car wash to raise money for accessories for Homecoming. These added spark and originality to the activities.

Dixie Cochrane, Beckie Whitener, Head; Martha Hammer; and Kay Ashley were the majorettes that added color and spirit to football games.

CLASSES

Elected to lead the Sophomore class in its activities were Kristi Scott, Secretary; Elaine Small, Vice-President; and Joe Dwyer, President. Johnny Waldrop, Treasurer, was absent when the picture was made.

Sophomores Meet Their Challenges

To the Sophomore entering in September, 1962, North Mecklenburg offered many challenges. All of a sudden he was faced with adult decisions and had to take the responsibility for them. As newly orientated Rebels it did not take long to get into the swing of things and grow up.

The Booster Club and Social Committee, in order to help the Sophomores become better acquained with each other and the school, sponsored a sock hop in the gym. Many new friendships were formed thus enabling the Sophomores to make wiser choices in selecting their class officers.

Several weeks later, the Sophomores and their parents were honored by the P.T.A. at a reception in the school cafeteria. Here the parents were able to meet Sophomore teachers and become better acquainted with them.

New courses offered to the Sophomores included chemistry and geometry. In addition, the Sophomores were plagued with memorizing Julius Caesar and dissecting frogs. Moreover here was the additional humiliation of sore shoulders caused by all the polishing the Seniors did when their rings arrived.

After all this, the Sophomore Class emerged from its first year at North, prepared to serve its school in the future with knowledge and honor.

Sophomores Learn

"Maybe we're only Sophomores, but honestly, we're too old to skip rope!" Actually skipping rope was part of the physical fitness test all Sophomores took. Here Wayne Torrenee and Norman Stutts tested their endurance as Mr. Glendenning supervised.

Mrs. Lilly's sophomore home economics class held a tea honoring their parents. Members of the class sampling refreshments from a special table set for them were Patricia Black, Linda Cox, Becky Nelson, Janice Primm, Lula King, and Jan Rozzelle. Jane Barnhardt served.

Sophomores Seek Knowledge

For the first time, chemistry was offered to the Sophomore student. Finding the molecular weight of oxygen was a challenging problem for David Hubbard and Steve Knowlton.

To help guide the Juniors through their second year at North were their officers, Steve Ferrell, President; Ben Fincher, Vice-President; Marsha Henry, Secretary; and Judy Byrd, Treasurer.

Juniors Face Work and Responsibility

Another year and another step up the ladder of success was offered the Juniors. During this year they were given a chance to prove their worth. They accepted the opportunity and responded with hard work and service. Fifteen Juniors were inducted into the Honor Society, a reward for their diligent studies. Also several began to make their mark in athletics and other activities.

Many Juniors began thinking about college and took the P.S.A.T. in October. On College Day they were given a chance to discuss college requirements, costs, and standards. Moreover, they gave much thought to the choice of professions and careers. The greatest challenge presented to the Junior Class during the year was the planning and organization of the Junior-Senior Prom. Under the able guidance of the Junior Class Steering Committee and other industrious class members, the Prom was a great success and became a long-to-be remembered occasion.

The thrill of being measured for class rings coupled with the prospect of becoming Seniors made the Juniors look forward to their last year at North High. Hard work, awards, and important decisions made the year a memorable one in every respect.

One of the high lights of their Sophomore year for these present Juniors was the Latin Banquet held last April.

Juniors Choose Efficient Leaders

The Junior-Senior Prom called for cooperation from all the Juniors. Making up the Steering Committee were the class officers and the presidents of each Junior homeroom, who were, FIRST ROW: Ann Thompson, Marsha Henry, Judy Byrd. SECOND ROW: Steve

Senior Officers were Currie Johnston, President; Johnny Wallace, Vice President; Terrye Edwards, Secretary; Fred Kerr, Treasurer.

Seniors Look Forward to Future

In the fall of 1962 Seniors faced the joys and responsibilities of their final year at North with great anticipation. They were to discover, however, that this final year meant more work and emotional strain than the two years before. It meant the last ball game, the last dance, and the last Viking—the last of many things which they had shared together.

Ambition was the incentive for most Seniors. For the college-bound members of the class, the year brought the prospect of college boards and submitting applications to the colleges of their choice. There was some disappointment, but mostly the future held bright promise. Seniors who did not expect to attend college made plans for their future, also. With many accomplishments behind them, the Seniors awaited graduation day. In their hearts would always be the final memories of the Junior-Senior Prom, the class picnic, the Senior reception, and the Baccalaureate exercises. For the first time, seniors in all seven senior high schools were consolidated into one body for the Baccalaureate services at the Coliseum. Many objected to this; but time brings changes, and tradition must give way to progress.

Friends at North would never be forgotten; nevertheless, Seniors looked forward to new experiences as young adults.

Seniors discovered many things about college life through discussions with the various College Day representatives.

Projects Awaken Desire to Learn

This is class work? Deanne Little timed a physics experiment of force and momentum. Mr. Woodrow watched while Judy Stancil "drove" and Bobby Armstrong and Joe Rogers applied the force with a broom Sponsored by Royal Typewriter, Mr. Ben Posner gave a demonstration of speed typ-ing. Mary Kay Davis watched as Mr. Posner showed his skill by typing 128 5-stroke words per minute.

Knowledge, Honor, Service Recognized at Graduation

Four major awards are given at graduation to the most deserving seniors. These awards are the most coveted of all that are presented.

The STUDENT OF THE YEAR is chosen by the faculty from the nine winners of the STUDENT OF THE MONTH AWARD. The student of the month is chosen by the student body. Charles Lloyd won the award for 1962.

Devotion, sacrifice to the school, and service beyond duty are recognized in the VIKING SERVICE AWARD. This award was first presented in 1958. Cameron Coleman was the fifth recipient of the award.

First presented in 1961 was the SENIOR FULFILL-MENT AWARD. This award is given to the senior who develops his abilities in such a way that the whole person is enriched. Susanne Rayburn was the recipient of this award. She also won the DAR citizenship award.

Probably the most coveted award given at Graduation is the CIVITAN CITIZENSHIP AWARD. This award was given to Eugene Brown for his service, good citizenship, participation, and all around good character.

And on Awards Day Too

North's top students were officially recognized in a special chapel during the school's Honors and Awards Day.

Frank Ghigo received the Science Scholastic Award and shared the Mathematics Award with Suzy Daggy, who also won the local Betty Crocker Homemakers Award.

Two students, Mary Justice and Harold Threatt, received Danforth Foundation "I Dare You" Awards, and Threatt won the Science Award.

Eugene Brown won the PTA Scholarship Award; Brenda McGraw, the Alpha Delta Kappa Scholarship; Currie Johnston, the Harvard Book Prize; and Susanne Rayburn, the DAR Citizenship award, as well as the Derita Womans Club Scholarship.

Subject awards went to Fred Entrekin for agriculture; Bobby Henderson, art; Bill Murray, arts and crafts; Joe Lowman, band and chorus; Betty Cunnupp, commercial; Eric Taylor and David Von Kamecke, distributive education;

Joanne Greene, dramatics; Doris Brown, English and special award in French; Mimy Martin, French; Bobby Kerns, Latin; Isla Vance, home economics; Thomas Knox, industrial arts and mechanical drawing; Toni Powell, library; Bennett Setzer, National Math Award; Jane Bates, Medical Auxiliary Award; Jane Hoke, NOMA Award; Lorraine White, Bible; Doris Cook, social studies; Phyllis Wagner, U. S. History; and Zoe Hough, world peace.

Billie Jean McKeown and Frank Ghigo were recognized by the News for All Star Scholarship.

THE EDITORS SAY . . .

Plans to make for the '63 Viking; post cards to address to Seniors about pictures; a dummy to draw up; ads to sell . . . This was the summer.

Seemingly millions of pictures to take; class lists to make; ad pages to check; pages of copy to proofread; hours to spend checking and re-checking; completed pages to mail . . . This was the winter.

Proof pages to check, money to collect for advertisements and subscriptions; delivery lists to compile... Then the 1963 Viking . . . This was the spring.

Credit goes to the staff, but much credit goes elsewhere. Without the support and the cooperation of many people — our advertisers, the students and faculty, the Brumfields and Keys Printing Company—your Viking would not be. Special thanks go to Mrs. Barfield for her support, patience, and good humor.

We realize that it is impossible to capture realistically all sides of school life; however, we sincerely hope that you enjoy the '63 Viking and that in years to come it will recall pleasant memories of your high school days.

to the about the " wat " day with that are been found for your of the form of t It has really been great prowing you these past years. Le know the future hold much success in stor for you Best of luck always. Michael Smill

I have surged anoung you and having you for a formand flower years. You are one of the funct of the At how and hope and him you that he grand has a cally success in what ever you do. But of luck to a cally sure that gul.

Marcia, you know I never thought this day would come but here it is! I don't know a nybody any happier about it than us, do you? I guess it must have been our sophomore year when we really bleame friends, and I've enjoyed every minute of our friendship. Though our school years together are ending. I sincerely hope our friendship will continue for many years. Warsh, you have a great personality and an awful lot of brains so with a combination like that you've bound to be a successat whatever youds. Be good at college nest year, or at least have fun! Keally show W.C. who you are and what you can do, and anything you want from college vill be yours. May God bless you in everything you do. Olways, Leita P. J. Lets raise enough L --- in New york to make up for the three years we couldn't at houth, okay?

Marcia, In first a sew more large we'll me longer be students of forth Mecklinding and you know, that really breaks me up skriously when you think about not seeing all your old friends, it does make you were accepted at w.C. but I'm sorry too for I know we won't see much of each after any more. We'll never have those your he won't get times that we had before. The times we won't say there is not the time of each after the work of the times we won't say the time when that we had before. The times we won't say were sumb! and ha van met hat stayed if it the yood told in house of the stayed if the the yood told in house of the stayed if the the yood told in house of the stayed in boding town. Marcia, A know you it never farget that might you came down to my house and we had to get the prefume out and it get stuck. Good gracious, Sid that house ever smell! Do you remember the time it smowed and I walked up to your house and we walked back to my house? We made floge with searet better it and nearly jot sich from ertig se much: Mairie, A really have criping a knowing you there 4 years. you were my first friend in houselle, and & whall never forget wow. I'm etterely glad that you got Miss High Miss. Good buch dumin to you for your really there it. I know you'll to and at aller and make it of the proud of you, I mean proche . The last of such to a very sweet girl and good suind.
